

SAIC Awarded $20 Million Task Order by Naval Surface Warfare Center - Crane Division

Company to Help Improve Mobility, Reliability, and Safety of Weaponized Vehicles

SAN DIEGO and MCLEAN, Va., Sept 30, 2009 /PRNewswire-FirstCall via COMTEX News Network/ -- Science Applications International Corporation (SAIC) (NYSE: SAI) today announced it has been awarded a task order by the Naval Surface Warfare Center (NSWC) - Crane Division to provide engineering, technical, and management support to the Wheeled Tactical Vehicle (WTV) Support Shelter and Vehicle Automated Diagnostic System (VADS) program initiatives. The follow-on task order has a two-year base period of performance, three one-year options and a total value of more than $20 million if all options are exercised. Work will be performed primarily at NSWC Crane and at SAIC locations throughout Indiana. The task order was awarded under the U.S. Navy's SeaPort-e contract.

NSWC Crane maintains a full spectrum research, development, acquisition, support, and test and evaluation capability for surface warfare combat, and weapons, hull, mechanical, and electrical systems. Under the task order, SAIC will help NSWC Crane improve the mobility, reliability, and safety of weaponized vehicles. SAIC will provide engineering, design, fabrication, and technical support for the WTV Support Shelter, VADS and other Marine Corps Systems Command and test measurement and diagnostic equipment program initiatives.

"SAIC is pleased to continue supporting NSWC Crane's VADS and WTV efforts, which enable our Marines to efficiently maneuver by providing improved system safety, reliability, and sustainability," said Tom Baybrook, SAIC senior vice president and business unit manager.
