 Pakistan Defence project is divided into different parts for their purpose and easier user accessibility.

Pakistan Defence Forum

Pakistan Defence Forum is a back bone of our project backed up by highly motivated administration team and a think tank group to promote our goals. It is the only defence forum with strict moderation, tolerance, and a highly comfortable platform for military and defence professionals to discuss various defence, strategic and security issues of Pakistan Defence.

Pakistan Military Gallery

Pakistan Military Gallery is the only military pictures platform with the most Pakistan military related pictures uploaded by various different registered users online. The number of pictures uploaded cannot be found anywhere.

Pakistan Defence News

Pakistan Defence News provides online coverage of breaking news on Pakistan military that is accurate, credible, and well researched compared to the other online news media which publish articles in order to spread one-sided unrealistic propaganda. Our respectable authors volunteer for this service in order to promote our goal and defence capability. Pakistan Defence News authors are respectable employees of various news paper publications in Pakistan.

Pakistan Defence Blog

Pakistan Defence Blog is different than Pakistan Defence News and is currently in a beta mode.

If you have any other questions about our organization, or if you like to contribute towards this project feel free to contact us by using the Contact Us link at the bottom screen of every page of the site.

Thank you,
 Pakistan Defence Team
