Welcome to the AIAA MIT Chapter's home on the web. This section, like many others in the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, is dedicated to advancing the arts, sciences, and technology of aeronautics and astronautics, as well as promoting the professionalism of those engaged in these pursuits.

Here at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the AIAA holds many events each year for the benefit of the engineering community. Events include guest lectures given by prominent figures in the aerospace industry, as well as the annual AIAA Student-Faculty Dinner. Click here to learn about upcoming events.
