MOSCOW -- This picture of a donut-shaped cloud in the skies above Moscow has the internet world buzzing.

Millions witnessed an ominous ring-shaped cloud appear over Moscow's western districts, prompting citizens to stop in their tracks to record the phenomenon and put it on YouTube.

Some think it's a UFO.

Others say it must have been photo-shopped or digitally enhanced.

But now a spokesperson with the Moscow weather department says the explanation is quite simple.

They say the formation is a cloud formed by an intrusion of arctic air and the sun shining from the west.

mmmm...

How about 10 UFO aircraft hiding in the clouds, monitoring the operation of nuclear power plants and facilities. :) ??

This is going to take away attention from my bigfoot video I was just about to release!

Notice in the video the cars are not even hitting the brakes and slowing to take a look as they drive by.
